The European Voice Teachers Association is an umbrella organization serving teachers of singing across Europe. EVTA today represents approximately 4,200 individual members in 21 countries who teach singing in all current and traditional styles at all levels of singing including children and amateurs, students and high-level professionals. Reflecting the diversity of European culture, the member organizations have individual profiles and vary vastly in size, scope and resources.

FIELDS OF ACTIVITY

Organiser of Eurovox congresses

Triennial Pan-European congress on vocal pedagogy and singing. Next congress in June 2015 in Riga.

Develop co-operations and networks

Between voice research and vocal pedagogy. Current partners include PEVOC and ICVT.

Use technology to teach singing

Collecting and evaluating material and new developments, developing a pedagogical approach to its use. Dissemination through E-publishing, e.g. Handbook of Digital Technology in Teaching Voice

Improve Internet presence and networking

Between member associations and neighbouring disciplines

Support European initiatives

Young Professionals Program supporting young singers and voice teachers

Jewels of Vocal Pedagogy supporting new and innovative methods of teaching voice

CONTRIBUTION TO LEO SINGS!

EVTA will contribute to the project as trainers and organizers in non-formal vocal pedagogy training programs, with human and scientific resources available to it through its educational experience of teaching singing, of scientific contributions and editions and actions that it can lead in Europe. The considerable human resources and pedagogical materials gathered in 2 previous Leonardo da Vinci -- Life Long Learning EU multi-country partnership projects since 2008 will support the coordinator and steering committee in planning and implementing the project.
